SWEAR GROUT PUT FICTITIOUS VALUES ON BANK PROPERTY

Experts Declare He Added $300,000 to Assets in That Manner.

Testimony tending to show that Edward M. Grout, as President of the Union Bank of Brooklyn, overvalued all the real estate owned by the bank in his report to the Department of Banks on March 25, 1910, continued to pile up on the records of his perjury trial in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, to-day. According to the figures submitted by District Attorney Cropsey, Mr. Grout added to the seets of the bank about $300,000 of fictitious values through real estate vervaluations.

Deputy Tax Commissioner Edward Burke testified to-day that the Atlantic Avenue branch of the bank, at No. 295 Atlantic Avenue, valued by Mr. Grout at $50,000, was worth only $17,500. Charles L. Gilbert, a real estate expert, swore that a tenement at No. 310 Driggs Avenue, carried by Mr. Grout as worth $20,000, was worth only $9,500. Deputy Tax Commissioner Hewitt testified that the Hamilton Branch, at No. 79 Hamilton Avenue, valued by Mr. Grout at $45,-00, was worth only $17,500.

Unimproved property at Broadway and Hancock Street was valued by and Hancock Street was valued by Mr. Grout in his statement at $22,000. Fred C. Lehman, an expert on values in that section, testified to-day that the property was worth only $14,250, and Henry C. Hauer, another expert, valued it at $14,000.

The Merchants' Branch, at No. 808 Broadway, valued by Mr. Grout at $190,000, was worth only $90,000, according to the testimony of Nathan Stern, an expert. Mr. Stern also put a valuation of only $80,000 on the People's Branch, at No. 1240 Broadway, which was valued by Mr. Grout at $180,000.

AMERICANS MAY GET THEIR GERMAN GOODS

WASHINGTON, June 24 .- Further extension of time has been granted to importers by the British Government, the State Department announced to-day, in which to get goods

nounced to-day. in which to get goods out of Germany which were contracted for or purchased before March 1 last, the effective date of the British orders in council.

The date of special permits under which these shipments could be brought out of Germany via neutral ports had been last set at June 15, after several extensions, but embassy officials here have informed the State Department that additional time will be granted where it is shown that the previous time limit was inadequate.

Stock market activity was comparatively light. U. S. Rubber was a Am. at 52, and selling off at 56 3-4 during the first hour, as a result of President Colt's estimate of earnings

Westinghouse, Baldwin Locomotive and other war stocks sold off on helief that orders may be changed from shrapnel to explosive shells, and this would call for installation of new machinery. Also difficulty of getting cash payments by some of the companies for war orders was effective in causing some of the selling. Prices improved in second hour, but uying was not aggressive. In early afternoon renewed selling pressure broke prices below the previous low. Trading was more active and prices were from 1 to 2 points below the opening.
